THE FORTIFICATION BILL-WHAT OUR NAVY HAS-ENGLISH SETTLERS COMING TO VIR-GINIA-THE WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS-PERSONAL, &C. [From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, December 13 .- The discussion of the fortification bill shows that our seaboard cities are at the mercy of the warships of even such second-rate powers as Italy, Spain, and Brazil. Mr. Cox, of New York, in his speech, gave a discouraging were in favor of retaining it and 605 against picture of the defencelessness of our coast, saying that moritors are not to be improout four ounces of laudanum, having vised every day against the surprises of remased a two-ounce bottleful from two Merrimacs, and that "in the late war the North won many a battle by reason of its superior engineering and invention, despite the most conspicuous chivalry and self-sacrificing personal bravery of the South." It came out in the discussion that the Spanish navy is much superior to ours in the number and grade of its vessels, being made up of 148 ships and 809 guns, mostly rifle and heavy Rodman smoothpores. Six of its ships are first-class ironclad frigates, and seven second-class armored ships, while our navy has only 93 war-vessels, including 4 monitors and 8 tugs. And yet during recent years we have been more than once on the verge of

TESTIMONIALS.

[From Rev. Isnac Krrett, editor of the Christian Standard.]
Allow me to say that the experiments and tests made with the Dentaphone satisfy me that it is all that it is claimed to be. The Deat will find in it a [From J. William Johnson, attorney at law, of Moulton, Johnson & Levy, lawvers.] CINCINNATI. October 2, 1879. I am glad to express my satisfaction with the re-ult of the experiments made with the Dentaphone. Being competed myself to use a speaking-tube or trumpet I am able to form a better comparison than one whose hearing faculties are unimpaired. I would certainly advise all deaf persons to obtain ther they use a trumoet or not, and doubtless it will prove servic-able where, in many in-stances, the trumpet would not.
